

My main goal for this program is to learn the technical skills mostly, and continue to develop my creative eye. One day I hope to be a great director. I want to show the world a perspective on life they have yet to see. I strive to tell stories that will warm people's hearts and chill them to their bones. I would like to learn, in detail, the most efficient and effective ways to run a camera in various different settings, lighting conditions, etc. I'm ready to actually be a necessary part of the filming process with this studio. Deen is a wonderful teacher, always willing to hear other ideas, hence allowing each of us to go through with our own creative process. I hope to gather as much knowledge as I possibly can from people as intelligent as Ananth and Deen. They seem to know how everything works perfectly and i'm really enjoying learning from them.

Essentially, i hope to learn all there is to learn when it comes to film. I know that's probably impossible, but that's my goal for my entire career of film. I've got many ideas for what i believe to be, potentially, very good films. I must seem pretty redundant, but i just want to learn film. I honestly can't imagine spending my life doing anything else. This is my greatest passion. I've dreamt of going into film since i was a wee one. I believe i will reach all my goals while working at this studio. I don't think a better opportunity has been presented to me yet.

Film Ideas

- 1.) Group of people explore abandoned hospital and stumble upon an evil group of people.
- 2.) Man has an epiphany at his dead end fast food job and searches for his purpose.
- 3.) In the 1800's, a man's wagon train is raided by indians, with his family dead he proceeds to hunt indians, finding a little girl on his way.
