1.) How did Orson Welles get his start?

In theatre. He traveled to Ireland, on his inheritance, and insisted he was a well-respected director and massive talent from America.

2.) What similarities are there between Orson Welles and Jerry Weintraub?

They were both confident and blatantly lied to get their foot in the door.

3.) How was Jerry Weintraub hired at Warner Brothers?

He was in the waiting room for a production assistant position when the secretary walked in asking for someone else. He, on a whim, said he was the person the secretary was seeking and he was apparently led into a board room and interviewed for a development executive position.

4.) Aside from sharing hands confidently, what else can you do to convince people that you are talking about?

Firm handshake, direct eye contact, confidence, and the ability to start a conversation with anyone in a social situation. "Ability to navigate a sea of people like a shark."
